SABOTAGE TRIAL STARTS AT MOSCOW

Tariff Rates Under Canadian-British Pact To Be Changed

Two Governments Agreed Some Schedules of Treaty Shall Be Varied and Added to, Thomas Informs British Commons

Request Made By Ottawa Ministry

Canadian Press — London, April 12.—Following discussions between the Canadian and United Kingdom governments, it has been agreed to make certain alterations in the schedules of tariffs on British goods entering Canada embodied in the pact signed by the two governments at the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, made this announcement in reply to questions in the Commons this afternoon, declaring it had been decided to make variations in and additions to schedule E of the Canada-United Kingdom trade pact. This sets forth more than 200 items of the Canadian tariff on which new or increased preferences were granted to the United Kingdom.

The minister furnished no details of the commodities affected.

QUESTION BY LANSBURY
Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, Labor leader, asked whether negotiations had been taking place with the Canadian Government for revision of the trade agreement.

"Yes," replied Mr. Thomas. "At the request of the Canadian Government consultations, as provided in article 23 of the United Kingdom-Canada trade agreement, have taken place with regard to variation of certain provisions of the trade agreement relating to customs tariff treatment of British goods going into Canada."

"It has now been agreed between the two governments that schedules of the trade agreement shall be varied and added to in certain respects," added Mr. Thomas.

He promised to circulate particulars later.

DUTY POUND
The Canadian Government, he went on, having regard to the provisions of article 17 of the pact, had agreed to fix the value of the pound sterling for exchange and dumping duty purposes at $4.25 instead of $4.40 until further notice.

Replying to further questions, Mr. Thomas said alteration of the exchange would be of considerable advantage to Britain.

James Moxon, fiery Labor member, asked whether the arrangement might not be modified by the talks the Prime Minister would be having in Washington with President Roosevelt.

With Budget Voted M.P.'s Will Speed Up

Neither Premier Nor Liberal Leader Shared in Closing Stage of Discussion in Commons; Vote 107 to 72

Canadian Press — Ottawa, April 12.—With the budget debate ended, Parliament, to-day settled down to the last stretch of the session.

The vote on the budget, always one of the milestones of the session, came after a whirlwind finish to the discussion. The last speaker finished fifteen minutes before 11 p.m., and in the closing time of the House, and in the next forty minutes three votes were taken. The Liberal amendment, which took the form of a direct want-of-confidence motion against the Government, was lost 119 to 69, with twelve Progressives lining up with the Conservatives in opposition.

On the first vote, a Progressive amendment which the Rhodes budget by legislating in favor of currency inflation, nationalized insurance schemes and a national credit bank, was snuffed under 171 to 13. Conservatives and Liberals united in the voting to defeat it.

NEW MEAL TAX IS PROTESTED

Hotel Men Point to Difficulties in Collection; Stamp System Proposed

Forty-nine-cent Meals Advertised in Vancouver; Travelers Are Opposed

Opposition to the provincial government's new tax on meals, and the methods initiated to defeat its purpose, being advertised in Vancouver yesterday by taxation experts of the Parliament Buildings and hotel and restaurant keepers.

Commercial travelers operating in the province will refuse to pay the tax, it was stated, and will have the backing of their organization in this move. Forty-nine-cent meals are already being advertised in Vancouver along with "bring your own sugar" slogans, one delegate said. Since the tax is on meals of 50 cents and over, such meals would not be taxable.

Collection of the tax, to be made through caterers and restaurateurs, will probably be handled through the stamp system, it was agreed. The stamps will be issued in denominations of 3, 4, 5 and 10 cents, and $1. A line of credit in the stamps will be arranged for the restaurateurs and hotels so that an unnecessary burden will not fall on them.

EXPECT CONFUSION
Caterers claimed that even the stamp system would lead to confusion and United States tourists, especially, may refuse to pay the tax. The government officials expressed the opinion that wine, beer, smokes, cut flowers and other items of a substantial meal would be subject to the charge, whether at a banquet, a bridge tea or in a cafe.

The hotel men complained that while boarding houses having permanent guests were to be exempt from the tax, hotels with permanent guests would be taxed.

In regard to the suggestion that commercial travelers would refuse to pay the tax, it was pointed out that the onus was on the restaurant proprietor to collect.

Before the act becomes operative the government officials will meet Vancouver hotel and restaurant men.

Chinese Brigands Hold Missionary

Mukden, Manchuria, April 12.—Dr. Nellie Nielsen, a medical missionary from United States, was abducted by Chinese brigands yesterday, according to a telegram received to-day at the U.S. consulate here from his wife.

Random Wheel Wrecks Store

Wrenched From Trailer, Smashes Into Window and Breaks Up Stock and Cases

Business rolled into Clark's Pharmacy, at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Cook Street to-day. But it was business for somebody outside the store, amounting to approximately $200 in repair work.

That was the tentative estimate of damage done to the premises at 9:15 o'clock this morning when a wheel from the trailer of a car driven by Sydney Pickles, well-known local airman, tore loose from its axle and raced down Pandora Hill to crash through a big plate glass window and smash stock in the store.

Glenndon Dennstedt, assistant to the proprietor, Wm. Clark, escaped serious injury only because he had left the spot where he was working shortly before. Had he delayed a few seconds the flying glass and falling stock might have given him serious cuts.

SIR DANIEL McMILLAN

Winnipeg, April 12.—The condition of Sir Daniel McMillan, eighty-eight, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, from 1909 till 1911, was not improved to-day, according to his daughter, Mrs. McCarthy of Toronto. Sir Daniel is critically ill at his home here, suffering from a fall in which he struck his head.

Parties Getting Ready For Battle At Polls In July

Atkinson and Shelly Prospective Victims of Cabinet Reorganization

More Parties But Liberal and Conservatives Billed As Major Factors

Although Premier Tolmie has given no indication of the date of his cabinet reorganization or when an election will be called, British Columbia will soon be in the throes of a keenly fought political contest in anticipation of an election in July.

In spite of union government negotiations, talks of a Legislature comprised of groups bringing back the old days of bargaining and log-rolling, and new parties in the field there are many in close touch with affairs who anticipate that in the main the battle will be much the same as other recent battles have been.

LIBERALS AND CONSERVATIVES
Liberals and Conservatives, it is predicted, will be the main factors in the contest, and when the smoke of battle has cleared away it will be Premier Tolmie, T. D. Pattullo or W. J. Bowser, who will be called upon by the Lieutenant-Governor to form a new government. Liberals confidently forecast that they will have a majority over all, but others figuring out other possibilities, predict that should the returns show Premier Tolmie and Mr. Bowser jointly backed by enough candidates to combine and outnumber the Liberals following, every effort would be made for a last minute reconciliation to keep the reins of power in the hands of the Conservative party.

MANY CANDIDATES
There is little doubt there will be a record number of candidates in the field. Scarcely more interest has been shown in nominating conventions. In some constituencies Bowser men and Tolmie men will be opponents. New parties will have representatives in the field. Canadian Commonwealth Federation candidates may prove a factor in the fight, according to reports from the mainland. Reports vary on their probable strength, and some observers claim there is every possibility they will be well represented in the next Legislature.

TO LOSE POSTS
No intimation is given by Premier Tolmie as to what form his cabinet reorganization will take. He has, however, stated he will reduce the number of departments. Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. W. C. Shelly, president of the Executive (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

EXCHANGE DOLLAR IS UNCHANGED

THIRTY YEARS IN FAR EAST

Sir John Brennan, British Consul-General at Shanghai, Here on Leave

Thirty years in the British consular service in the Far East is the record of Sir John Brennan, K.C.M.G., C.M.G., His Majesty's Consul-General at Shanghai, who, with Lady Brennan, reached the city from China by the Empress of Canada, en route to London on extended leave.

"There was some uneasiness in Shanghai, but it has passed now," said Sir John, briefly commenting on the military operations in China. He expects to be on furlough for a period of six months and plans to return this way in the summer. "We have had a wonderful trip across the Pacific," declared Sir John, smilingly supported in his remarks by his charming wife. "We cannot say too much in praise of the service we have received while on board this magnificent ship. My wife and I are now hoping to see something more of Canada before we cross the Atlantic for home. Sir John became a student interpreter in Siam in 1903, being transferred to China two years later. He was acting vice-consul at Tientsin from 1913 until the following year, and after serving in a similar capacity at Poochow he went to France in 1917 with the Chinese labor corps, being in charge of Chinese laborers who passed through the quarantine station at William Head en route to the war zone. At the conclusion of the war he resumed his work in China, being successively acting consul at Hankow, acting commercial secretary at Peking and acting consul at Shanghai. He has held his present consular post for four years.

Sees Hitler Daring More Than Bismarck

Canadian Press Writer Visits Germany, Returns to London and Describes Nazi Changes in Germany

In view of conflicting cable reports from Germany, George Hamilton, European staff correspondent of the Canadian Press, was instructed April 5 to go to Berlin and report the situation as he saw it without fear or favor. He has now returned to London and the following is the first of his dispatches.

London, April 12.—Adolf Hitler is building a new Germany such as the Iron Chancellor himself scarcely dreamed of. Bismarck recognized the autonomy of the federating states; Hitler is sweeping them all under one central power. The Republican constitution of Weimar has disappeared overnight. It is held up to ridicule. In the light of the new Germany its provisions for freedom of speech and equality of German citizens before the law sound like the ironic echo of some Utopian past.

PLAN WIDENED FOR CONFERENCE

Washington, April 12.—The State Department to-day announced notes had been sent to all the nations having diplomatic missions in Washington which had not been invited to send special representatives to talk economic with President Roosevelt, inviting them to exchange views through diplomatic channels.

Rome, April 12.—Premier Mussolini has appointed Guido Jung, Minister of Finance, to represent Italy in the preliminary World Economic Conference conversations in Washington. He will be accompanied by experts.

(Signor Jung already had been selected to go to London in May to talk with Prime Minister MacDonald. He has been Minister of Finance less than a year, formerly heading the national export organization.)

LAWYERS HERE STIRRED UP

Vigorously Protest to Bennett Against McQuarrie's Rumored Appointment

See Victoria Losing Only Supreme Court Judgeship and Three Benchers

Forecast from Ottawa of the appointment of W. G. McQuarrie, K.C., ex-M.P. of New Westminster, to the Supreme Court of British Columbia to succeed Hon. F. R. Gregory, superannuated, moved the legal profession of Victoria in a body to-day to protest.

Meeting as members of the Victoria Law Society under President H. G. Lawson and Secretary R. A. Wootton, the Victoria lawyers this morning crowded the Supreme Court chamber and, after speeches by the leaders of the protest, passed a resolution of protest. This resolution is being telegraphed to Premier Bennett and to D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria. It sets out that the appointment of Mr. McQuarrie would be purely a political one and thus contrary to the announced policy of the Premier. It also set out that the vacancy to be filled is historically and properly a Victoria position and that appointment of a mainland man would leave Victoria for the first time in its history without a Supreme Court judge. The finding of the post were put forward in the resolution.

BENCHERS' ELECTION ALSO IRKS
Lawyers here were also exercised by the results of the recent benchers' election, in which they saw the mainland appropriating other offices traditionally belonging to the island. Up until now there has been an understanding that of the ten benchers elected by the profession each year, four were to be Victoria or island men and six to be Vancouver or mainland men. The election last week resulted for the first time in Victoria having its four benchers reduced to one, with the mainland getting the other nine. The only Victorian elected was Lindsey Grease, K.C.

Mainland lawyers would not say whether Victoria was hereafter to have only one benchers.

In political and outside of legal circles, it was said to-day that a compromise on the Supreme Court appointment may be reached by the appointment of a mainland man on the stipulation that he take up his residence in Victoria.

Seattle, April 12.—Associated Press — The coast guard headquarters here to-day reported receiving a message from its Grays Harbor station telling of the discovery of the body of Gus Hendrickson of the fishing boat Thelma, lost at sea last week, six miles south of Clifton Beach, near the entrance to Grays Harbor. The death list of the storm, which wrecked several small fishing vessels, remained at seventeen to-day, with but one body recovered. The bodies of Aberdeen and Astoria still missing.

Sanity Test For Mrs. Ruth Judd

Jury to Rule on Mental Condition of Woman Under Death Sentence in Arizona

Associated Press — Florence, Ariz., April 12.—Superior Court Judge E. L. Green to-day set Friday for commencement of a hearing to determine the sanity of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, who is condemned to be hanged April 21 in the "brink murder" case in which she confessed killing two women.

The hearing will be before a jury. Her defence at her trial in January and February of 1925 was insanity. Arizona law, however, does not countenance execution of the death sentence on any person who has become insane after entering the prison. Warden A. O. Walker, of the Arizona state prison here, in his request to County Attorney W. C. Truman to petition for a sanity hearing expressed belief Mrs. Judd during her fourteen months' wait for the slow approach of the gallows had become mentally deranged.

AKRON WAS TO HAVE BEEN STRENGTHENED

Lakehurst, N.J., April 12.—Lieut. Commander Edwin F. Cochran, assembly and repair officer at the United States naval air station here, to-day testified at the hearing on the loss of the strapping Akron, that it had been planned to strengthen, on her return from the last flight, the ship's structure in the area in which two of the survivors said they saw two longitudinal girders break. One of those girders was to have been strengthened, he said.

The work was to have been started April 7, Cochran said, and was to have covered the area where Deul and Ewin, the two enlisted men who were survivors, said they saw girders break just before the crash.

Lieutenant-Commander H. V. Waddy, the only surviving officer of the Akron, who, designated at his own request an interested party, has the right to examine witnesses, said of Cochran the first question he had put in the hearing so far.

"As far as you know," he asked, "was the ship considered perfectly safe to fly without this alteration?"

U.B.C. Professor Returns After Completing Geological Survey at Hongkong

Made Doctor of Laws on Twenty-first Birthday of Hongkong University

Dean Reginald W. Brock of the University of British Columbia, who went out to China six months ago to complete a geological survey for the Hongkong government, returned here to-day by the inbound R.M.S. Empress of Canada. "I have completed the survey and am now working on the report," said Dean Brock when the ship docked here this morning. He said the report would be an extensive one. Perfect weather at Hongkong enabled him to complete his work expeditiously. "I hardly missed a day," he said.

In recognition of his valuable work, the University of Hongkong, which on March 15 last celebrated its coming of age, conferred upon Dean Brock the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

This is the third and last of four that Dean Brock has made to Hongkong in connection with the geological survey.

BURNABY TAX RATE SET AT LOWER LEVEL BY COMMISSIONER

John Bennett Tells Citizens Levy Will Be 48 Mills, As Compared With 57 Last Year

Canadian Press — Burnaby, B.C., April 12.—Commissioner John Bennett to-day set Burnaby's tax levy for 1933 at forty-eight mills on land and fifty per cent on improvements. Last year the rate was fifty-seven mills and twenty per cent on improvements.

The commissioner has budgeted for an estimated expenditure of $864,541. Collections are estimated at $725,231, and the rate has been based on an 100 per cent collection of taxes. Last year the levy was expected to yield $719,375, but only $519,000, or 56 per cent was collected.

The commissioner to-day passed a by-law providing for a year's moratorium on sinking fund payments, which will mean a saving of $87,000 on fixed charges.

W. H. Macdonald Pleads Guilty on Counts of Espionage, Sabotage and Bribery, As Do Eleven Russians Also Before Court

All Worked For Manchester Firm

Officials in London Not Surprised at Macdonald's Plea, Saying It Is Result of Russians' Inquisitorial Methods

Canadian Press and Associated Press — Moscow, April 12.—W. H. Macdonald, British employee of the Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Company, and eleven Russian employees of the company to-day pleaded guilty to charges of espionage, sabotage and bribery.

Five other British employees of the company pleaded not guilty.

The five other Englishmen are Allan Monkhouse, Moscow director for the Metropolitan-Vickers Company; Charles Nordwell, L. C. Thornton, A. W. Gregory and John Cushey.

The eleven Russian employees of the company include one woman. Their trial started this morning in October Hall, the house of the trade unions, which was guarded closely by uniformed soldiers armed with rifles and bayonets, stationed inside and outside the courtroom. The hall was crowded to its capacity of approximately 500. Spectators were admitted only by card.

Four judges, one of whom is an alternate, were seated at a red-draped table on an elevated dais, back of which stood a squad of uniformed soldiers.

GUARDED BY SOLDIERS
The prisoners were seated in a dock to the right and behind the judges, with two soldiers with bayonets fixed, standing immediately in front of them.

Nine defence attorneys were in court, five of them representing the Englishmen.

To the left sat sandy-haired and bespectacled Prosecutor Andrew Vishinsky. He had one assistant, Monkhouse, Nordwell, Thornton, Gregory and Cushey first filed in, followed by the remainder of the prisoners.

All of the British subjects except Macdonald, had been released on bail.

Macdonald, twenty-eight years old, whom the prosecution said it expected to attempt to show was a spy, walked in the front rank of the prisoners, and without speaking to his colleagues, took a seat in the front row of the prisoners' dock. He is tall and was wearing a closely-cropped goatee. His face was pale.

Thornton also sat in the front row of the dock. Two seats removed from Macdonald. The remainder of the Englishmen sat together in the back row.

Anna Sergeyevna, thirty-seven-year-old, bobbed blonde, who was Monkhouse's personal secretary, also was seated in the front row.

SPEAK RUSSIAN
In formal, perfunctory questioning, the prisoners were asked by Chief Judge Ulrich whether they had received a copy of the indictment. All of the Englishmen except Gregory answered in Russian. Gregory, who does not speak Russian, was questioned through an official interpreter.

It was announced at the outset of the trial that the eighteenth defendant, a Russian, had suddenly become ill and would be tried later.

After the formal questioning, reading of the indictment was started. The document is approximately 20,000 words long.

IN GOOD HEALTH

All of the British Metropolitan-Vickers' employees were neatly groomed and appeared in good health. The Russians, all of whom were employed in technical capacities in Soviet electrical organizations, also were well groomed.

All answered the initial questions in firm voices. "William Strang, Charge d'Affaires at the British Embassy, and a number of secretaries from both the Embassy and the British consulate, watched the opening proceedings intently, as did a special representative of Metropolitan-Vickers, who was sent here to observe the case.

READ STATEMENT

In his confession, the indictment said, Macdonald had told of acting under Thornton's instructions in collecting military, economic and political information and in organizing a breakdown of the Zlatoust electrical plant, which furnishes power for military and metallurgical factories in the Ural.

FROM ENGLAND

The woman, Kutsuova, on whose testimony the present indictment is based, told the police that a man named Richards, vaguely described as an official of Metropolitan-Vickers, had come to see Monkhouse, Cushman and Thornton in 1930 and that afterward these three and Macdonald had secretly met a number of Russian citizens on several occasions.

DENIES SABOTAGE CHARGE

Monkhouse, who denied the indictment, also denied having collected any secret information, having given any bribe, or having organized any sabotage. He said he had got information on his company's work in this country "of interest to the firm."

LONDON NOT SURPRISED

London, April 12.—The plea of guilty of W. H. Macdonald, charged with espionage, bribery and sabotage in his trial in Moscow with five other British subjects and eleven Russians, did not surprise British official circles.

The plea was considered the result of five weeks of solitary confinement and the methods of questioning which have been employed.

The British Government's view remains that there is no justification for the charges and Macdonald's plea of guilty is not likely to affect this viewpoint.

ALL EYES ON MOSCOW
London, April 12.—Great Britain turned its attention anxiously to-day to Moscow, where the long-awaited trial of six Britons on charges carrying a maximum penalty of death started this morning.

National politics, the forthcoming World Economic Conference here and all other matters have been superseded in public interest by the Russian affair. Already it has caused the indefinite recall of the British ambassador from Moscow, the ending of the trade agreement with Russia next week and only yesterday evening final action was taken empowering the government to declare an embargo on Russian imports.

Lord Hailsham, Minister of War, expressed the mood of the British Cabinet in declaring it will "leave no stone unturned to secure justice for the British men now in peril in Moscow."

THE COMMITTEE DECIDED TO OVER-ride one recommendation of the Duff Royal Commission on Reconstruction. When the next meeting is held, S. J. HUNGERFORD, acting president of the C.N.R., and other officials of the system, will be present when the annual budget is discussed. The Duff Commission suggested no official appear before the committee.

With a minimum of discussion the committee approved a bill authorizing the Canadian National to borrow $12,058,000 for refunding requirements and capital expenditures for the calendar year 1933, and authorizing the Minister of Finance to loan the railway $47,941,300 to meet the railway's net income deficit for the year.

Chairman Hanson, speaking about railway officials being present, said the recommendation of the Duff Commission was a "slap in the face" to the committee. Personally, he believed the work of the committee last year had saved many millions of dollars for the taxpayers of the country.

While not especially trained for civil engineering, he became one of Canada's outstanding construction experts. At the age of twenty he came to Western Canada and threw himself wholeheartedly into railroad construction.

Tariff Rates Under The Canadian-British Pact To Be Changed and other leaders. He also asked whether British traders must assume this price has been fixed for a considerable period.

Mr. Thomas replied the matter had been considered in response to specific requests by the Canadian government and that the changes had resulted in an adequate quid pro quo basis. He said the United States constitution was concerned, Mr. Thomas did not see they had any bearing on the matter.

Article 17 of the Canada-United Kingdom treaty includes Canada's undertaking it would abolish the duties on British imports as soon as the Dominion's finances warranted and that Canada would continually be watching for an opportunity to reduce the duties.

Article 23 of the pact grants the privilege of alteration of any of the following conditions: duties, tariff agreement between the countries concerned.

Schedule E of the pact sets forth 220 items of the Canadian tariff in respect of which new or increased ratings or preferences were granted to the United Kingdom. It covers a wide range of commodities, including iron and steel, and steel industries, not only the primary forms but their products.

In Schedule E revisions of the textile items relate chiefly to linens and the major classifications of cotton and woolen fabrics. Other commodities embraced in the schedule include a very wide and important range of chemicals, glass, toilet accessories, bronze, tableware and leather.

HUNGERFORD, acting president of the C.N.R., and other officials of the system, will be present when the annual budget is discussed. The Duff Commission suggested no official appear before the committee.

With a minimum of discussion the committee approved a bill authorizing the Canadian National to borrow $12,058,000 for refunding requirements and capital expenditures for the calendar year 1933, and authorizing the Minister of Finance to loan the railway $47,941,300 to meet the railway's net income deficit for the year.

Chairman Hanson, speaking about railway officials being present, said the recommendation of the Duff Commission was a "slap in the face" to the committee. Personally, he believed the work of the committee last year had saved many millions of dollars for the taxpayers of the country.

J. M. MERCER OF VANCOUVER DIES

Supervised Building of P.G.E. Railway and Other Big Works

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 12.—John M. Mercer, vice-president of the Northern Construction Company Limited, died here yesterday, aged fifty-six.

At various times during his career Mr. Mercer had charge of construction work in Canada and the United States. He supervised construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in British Columbia and of a $10,000,000 water tunnel for the city of Boston. Other projects he supervised include Winnipeg's $12,000,000 aqueduct in 1912; the Second Narrows Bridge, Vancouver; the Canadian Pacific Railway tunnel under this city; the "Lions" Gate high pressure tunnel under Burrard Inlet in 1920; on the death of the former president, J. A. Murdoch. In addition to his numerous business affiliations, he was a member of the Chalmers United Club, Melrose Lodge A.P. and A.M. the Vancouver Club, Shaughnessy Golf Club, Terminal City Lawn Bowling Club, the Vancouver Canadian Club and the Vancouver board of trade.

Born at Markdale, Gray County, Ontario, Mr. Mercer received his school and business college education. While not especially trained for civil engineering, he became one of Canada's outstanding construction experts. At the age of twenty he came to Western Canada and threw himself wholeheartedly into railroad construction.

Mr. Mercer became interested in Vancouver Motors Limited in 1924 and succeeded to the presidency of the company in 1928, on the death of the former president, J. A. Murdoch. In addition to his numerous business affiliations, he was a member of the Chalmers United Club, Melrose Lodge A.P. and A.M. the Vancouver Club, Shaughnessy Golf Club, Terminal City Lawn Bowling Club, the Vancouver Canadian Club and the Vancouver board of trade.

Besides the widow, he is survived by four sons, Arthur, Randall, Allan and John, all of Vancouver.

The funeral service will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in Chalmers United Church.

ARRESTED MEN NOT IDENTIFIED

Three Taken By Police in Burnaby Put in Line-up at Headquarters

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 12.—An identification line-up held yesterday evening failed to connect any of the three men arrested yesterday in Burnaby with stolen cars carrying shotguns and ammunition with two recent holdups in Vancouver.

Archibald, Harry Drinkwater and Percy Thompson, Empire Stevedoring Company employees who were robbed of a $7,000 payroll last Friday morning, failed to identify any of the suspects.

Archie H. Cater and John C. Gibson, Western City Company messengers, who were robbed of a brief case containing several thousand dollars' worth of bonds on April 5 in the Bank of Nova Scotia Building at Hastings and Seymour Streets, also viewed the line-up.

The arrested men, George Finlay Lawson, Robert W. Erickson and Charles Russell Clark, appeared in the Burnaby police court this morning and were remanded until Saturday. All three were charged with being in possession of a stolen car, Lawson, who gave his address as 737 East Hastings, is charged with carrying three shotguns; Erickson is charged with carrying a shotgun; and Clark with carrying a pistol.

ARRESTED AFTER CHASE

They were taken into custody shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon by Constable John Woolen and Special Constable James Taylor after a wild auto chase through Burnaby.

In addition to the shotgun, the car contained guns, smoked glasses, rope, olive tape and ammunition. The police also seized a pistol.

Witnesses of the holdup of the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at Sixth Avenue and Granville Street two months ago also will be given an opportunity to view the accused in a line-up.

Toronto, April 12 (Canadian Press).—Rev. A. H. Perry told the Toronto West presbytery of the United Church that he was so weary his wife had to support herself doing twenty-four hour nursing duty and as he had only fifteen cents in his pocket, he couldn't stay to enjoy the fifty-cent dinner with fellow clerics at the church.

The report was received with applause and the appreciation of the board was tendered Mr. Mitchell. The secretary was instructed to convey the condolences of the board to the family of the late Con. Reifel.

The request of Victoria Chamber of Commerce to have the pound sterling stabilized at $4.00 by the federal government was referred to the trade and commerce committee for action, after the secretary had written for more information from the Victoria secretary.

Frequent references have been made to the fact that the Hon. J. L. Bruhn's candidacy, but there are many who claim that Mr. Hinchliffe could not remain happy away from the political arena. He is reported to have offered him he will be back in the fray with hopes of retaining his present portfolio.

It is believed there is little hope for the younger members of his party to the council. The Hon. J. L. Bruhn is reported to have a good deal of murmuring in the party ranks after the appeal for union government and right-year terms made by Hon. W. McKenzie. As previous speakers had made remarks which were freely interpreted as frank admissions of defeat, the Hon. J. L. Bruhn is reported to have made a statement of confidence in the present cabinet and in some cases as admissions of failure, younger members took exception to the appeal of the Hon. J. L. Bruhn. Against the background of the experience of the present ministers was valuable they raised the argument that success of the party would be more likely if they stepped back and made way for new men against whom there could not be raised the criticism of being part of the personnel of an unsuccessful administration.

Vancouver, April 12 (Canadian Press).—Nominating conventions to elect candidates in the field for the pending provincial election campaign have been summoned on the following dates:

Prince Rupert and Kamloops, April 19; North Okanagan at Vernon on April 20; Similkameen at Cariboo (at Williams Lake) on April 21.

F. D. Patterson, Liberal leader, who has been in conference with lower mainland officials of the party in Vancouver for the last three days, will arrive here tonight to attend the Prince Rupert convention. That is his own constituency and his representation after seventeen years continuous representation of the district is regarded as a certainty.

In Kamloops there are five or more aspirants contending for the honor, including Mayor D. B. Johnson, J. R. Collier, a former member, Roy Matthews, R. H. Carson, brother of E. C. Carson, the Conservative member for Lillooet, and Dr. McNamee, to J. B. Yonston, who runs the mailman Ranch, the best known ranch in British Columbia, is expected to receive the nomination in Cariboo.

In Similkameen C. H. Tupper, prominent official of the Railway Firemen's Brotherhood, is in the field and there is a possibility also of Charles Oliver, Revue of Penticton, and son of late Premier John Oliver, being proposed.

Dr. K. C. McDonald is expected to go before the Vernon convention and probably one or two others.

RAIL STRIKERS RESUME WORK

Canadian Press
Dublin, Irish Free State, April 12.—A wage dispute settlement was reached to-day to end an unofficial strike of about 4,000 employees of the Great Southern Railway in the Free State.

The strike began Sunday midnight. It had a grave effect on general trade and seriously curtailed Dublin's milk supply. Bus service was maintained while no trains operated in the twenty-five Free State counties.

Opening of service between Dublin and Belfast was planned to-day following the settlement of the ten weeks' strike of Great Northern Railway workers in Northern Ireland.

TIES UP INSULL'S $18,000 PENSION

Pensions totaling $18,000 a year paid Samuel Insull by his Chicago power companies have been attached by James P. O'Grady, above, who is suing the former utilities magnate for $30,000.

O'Grady, a Chicagoan, says Insull personally guaranteed bonds in which O'Grady invested.

CITY FALLS TO JAPANESE

Taitowying, Eight Miles South of Great Wall, Reported Occupied and Chinese Retire

Associated Press
Changchun, Manchuria, April 12.—Japanese troops were reported to-day to have occupied Taitowying, a Chinese city about eight miles south of the Great Wall of China, hastening a disorderly retreat of Chinese troops from the entire eastern section of the Wall.

The Chinese forces under Gen. Shang Chen and Gen. Ho Chu-tuo, apparently fearful of being cut off, were reported hurriedly retreating to the Luan River. It was said the Chinese intended to abandon the entire triangle formed by the Great Wall, the river and the sea.

This undisputed Chinese territory extends about sixty-five miles inland with a fifty-mile front on the sea. Below Lengchow, Hailuogang and Kungling, the Chinese attacked and Major-General Yoshikaki Takata, Heijiro Hattori and Tadashikawara, respectively, carried the battle farther south from the Great Wall.

Casualty returns showed the battle at Lengchow Monday and yesterday was unusually sanguinary. The Japanese lost twenty-eight killed and 100 were wounded and the Chinese left at least 200 dead, the reports said. Lengchow, a Great Wall passage about fifty miles inland, had been stubbornly defended for one month by the Chinese.

"PURELY LOCAL"
Tokyo, April 12.—The Japanese army hopes its offensive along the Great Wall will cut the Chinese troops to pieces beyond the Luan River, a War Office spokesman said to-day, but the Japanese have no intention of seizing the Great Wall.

The operations, it was explained, are purely local, designed to terminate Chinese pressure against the Great Wall, but the objectives have been attained, the Japanese will return to the Great Wall, which is considered the boundary line of Manchukuo territory.

Sees Hitler Daring More Than Bismarck

And the new Germany is to be all-German, it is a point of view that Hitler, who, whether German or not, has always been a person apart. Into the full rights of German citizenship, the German Jews are therefore not entitled to enter.

Outwardly everything is calm. Except for exchange restrictions on the franc, the German visitor sees little that is unusual. He travels freely and is generally received courteously. The medieval brand of ignominy has disappeared from the Jewish shops. Officially the Jewish boycott is over. But one does not have to dig deeply to enter another world. The power of the German Jews' bond of racial and unofficial, relentlessly pursues Jewry.

OPPOSITION CRUSHED
The Marxist, the Communist, every other kind of opposition "is" crushed. Thousands of prisoners are in camps. The German newspapers, under new control, welcome the golden dawn of the new Germany. It is common talk that telephones are tapped and letters intercepted.

The governments of previously autonomous Germany states are now responsible not to state legislatures but to the stateholders—governors—appointed by the Hitler Government, to J. B. U.S. IS HOPE SHAW STATES

May Save Present Civilization From Following Past Ones Over the Abyss

"Has America the Entrails?" He Asks Huge Audience in New York City

By Raymond Crowley, Associated Press Writer

New York, April 12.—Long accustomed to hear George Bernard Shaw call it a land of bores, the United States was a bit astonished to-day to find a large Shavian bouquet in its lap.

Lecturing United States audience face to face for the first time, the Irish author yesterday evening said the United States might possibly take the lead in saving civilization from tottering into the abyss as did Babylon, Rome and other civilizations of the past.

A rain of verbal cabbages accompanied the complimentary roses. According to Mr. Shaw, the people of the United States were ruled by financiers who were "99 per cent lunatics." They worshipped a "monstrous idol" called the Statue of Liberty and lived under a constitution which was nothing but a "charter of anarchy."

Mr. Shaw proposed the United States scrap its constitution, build a new one on American needs, nationalize the banks and destroy the power of the financiers.

He said Hollywood was the centre of "an abominably immoral propaganda" not sex immorality, but the immorality of heroes who, when they were annoyed, gave someone a "sock on the jaw."

As an example of the better type of United States citizen succeeding the 100 per centers, he named "Mr. President Roosevelt" and William Randolph Hearst, both of whom, he said, are "very violently against the constitution."

The "100 per cent American," he said, was "nothing but wind."

He said capitalism in the United States had "broken down," and he charged financiers with "running the country into the ditch."

"Your farmers are enslaved, in bankruptcy and in armed revolt," he declared. "You helped establish Communism in Russia."

Mr. Shaw brought a round of applause when he said: "Possibly America can save the great human race yet."

In the next breath he added: "Has America the entrails to do the job—if I were in England I would use a shorter word, but I have been warned against it."

U.S. CONTRIBUTION
While some of the audience laughed and the rest applauded, Mr. Shaw said the United States had "achieved the salvation of Europe," and "this nation's greatest contribution to Europe."

For ten minutes before the address started, Mr. Shaw sat in the centre of the platform with arms akimbo, looking into the sea of faces before him.

He splattered his talk with United States idioms and United States slang. Behind him, one on each side, were Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company, and Jackson F. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York.

Much of Mr. Shaw's talk was aimed at bankers and financiers, and when he called most of them "lunatics," Lamont and Reynolds looked at each other and smiled.

Near the end of his address, he said he had come to the Opera House "firmly resolved that not a word should pass my lips that would offend in the slightest a single American."

This brought a roll of laughter. As he concluded, he mentioned he was hearing the end of his life, and added: "It will cheer you to hear there won't be much more of it."

NEW PENSION ECONOMY PLAN

Scheme Considered to Replace System Proposed For War Veteran Civil Servants

Ottawa, April 12.—No reduction in war pensions, but enactment of legislation which would effect desired economies without disrupting the present pension situation is under consideration by the government. Proposals the income tax be applied to pensions and that, after a definite "deadline," no more dependents be added to the pensions list have replaced the government's move to suspend payment of pensions to war pensioners in the civil service.

The new plan is understood to have the approval of representatives of the associated veterans, now in conference here. According to the ex-service men the chief merit of the new economy lies in the fact it will not affect existing pensioners, or at all events only those whose incomes are sufficiently large to bring them under the operations of the income tax. The small-salaried pensioners would not be disturbed.

NO NEW PENSIONS
With regard to the second provision under consideration, its savings are projected into the near future. Dependents now receiving pensions would not have their allowances cut off, but after a certain date yet to be set, no new dependent pensions would be

MAN FALLS FROM HOTEL; IS KILLED

Associated Press
Washington, April 12.—Paul B. King, thirty-eight-year-old son of Senator William H. King of Utah, plunged from a seventh-floor window of the Blackstone Hotel here yesterday evening and was instantly killed.

King's wife and seventeen-year-old daughter, Patricia, were stopping at another hotel, after coming to Washington with him three days ago from New York.

Detectives investigating the case were inclined to the opinion King had fallen from the window, a theory strengthened, they said, by the fact he apparently had prepared to retire. King was a captain in the air service during the Great War.

BRITISH EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE

London, April 12.—There was an improvement in British exports during March. Preliminary Board of Trade figures issued yesterday give the March export total as £32,851,000, as compared with £32,222,000 in February, and £31,998,000 in March, 1932.

DUTY OF STERLING

Ottawa, April 12 (Canadian Press).—The dumping duty against British goods to counteract the depreciated sterling exchange for the last half of April will be 42 cents on the pound sterling. It will be the difference between the fixed value of the pound, namely, $4.25, and the average value in the money markets fixed by the Department of National Revenue at $4.13.

The dumping duty is only applied to British goods which compete with goods manufactured in Canada.

NEW STOCK TAX IS DISCUSSED

London, April 12.—In a written reply to a question asked in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he had not seen the text of the Canadian proposal to levy a 5 per cent tax on interest paid to holders of Canadian stocks and bonds outside the country and was therefore not prepared to express an opinion regarding its scope.

The Chancellor added he did not doubt the Canadian Government was aware of the terms of the British Finance Act of 1920 regarding relief to British taxpayers from a double income tax within the empire.

He said he was not sure whether the relief is applicable in the present case, for it depends on how far the right of deduction would apply to United Kingdom holders," concluded Mr. Chamberlain.

Forests Basic To All Industry

Chief Forester Caverhill Says
Wood Now Primary Product
For 4,500 Commodities

British Columbia's forests belong to future as well as to the present generation, declared P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester, in his address at the Victoria branch, Engineering Institute of Canada, dinner at the Dominion Hotel yesterday evening.

"The market for wood is expanding year by year," he said. "In 1922 it was estimated wood had 360 different uses. To-day there are 4,500 commodities in which wood enters as a primary raw product, ranging from the heaviest of construction timber to delicate textiles, from inflammable films to high-power explosives, from soft absorbent papers to damp-proof, cellophane wrappers, and from almost metal-like bakelite to digestible glucose and sugars."

"Economists have pointed out the much faster rate of increase in the use of natural resources than in population. In our forest area we have a renewable resource and one which, if maintained, will prove invaluable for the future, from the standpoint of raw materials needed; from the standpoint of profitable employment, and from the standpoint of making this province a better and more enjoyable place to live in. The forest was a great heritage loaned to us by a benevolent Providence. It is ours to enjoy and use legitimately, but we should have all the more care to pass it on still productive to those who succeed us."

"A forest is more than a mere grove of trees. It is a community of living organisms, controlled by definite biological laws and consisting of a number of plant species ranging from trees down through shrubs, grasses, mosses and the micro-organisms of the soil. All are linked together for the common welfare, and each is more or less dependent on the other."

"In the sixty odd years since we began timber operations, some fifty billion feet have been commercialized and the value received therefrom has been in excess of one and a half billion dollars, giving work to a major portion of the population and returning some $60,000,000 to the Provincial treasury in direct revenue."

POULTRY HEADS ARE SELECTED

J. F. Hanna Chosen President of Association Yesterday

The members named J. F. Hanna president, R. V. Robinson vice-president and J. H. Renfrew secretary-treasurer, with F. D. Stewart as his assistant. W. W. Bolton was selected as honorary president.

A. E. Nix, F. D. Stewart, D. Nichol, G. F. Mercer, H. Robinson and Gavin Jack were elected to the executive committee.

The association was in good financial condition, Mr. Renfrew reported. Other statements showed the year to have been completed satisfactorily.

During the discussion of plans for lectures on poultry matters, it was pointed out that talks would stimulate interest in the business and would add to the attendance of the meetings.

Plans for the summer poultry show at the provincial exhibition will be considered at the association's next meeting on May 8.

to Meet in Ladysmith
Next Week

Arrangements for the annual convention of the Grand Post of the Native Sons of British Columbia to be held in Ladysmith on April 21 and 22 were announced at the meeting of Victoria Post No. 1 in Hatt's Hall.

T. Gordon, chief factor, will welcome the convention delegates at the Friday session, and Major Joseph Mason of Ladysmith will tender the civic greetings.

After annual reports are submitted, services will be held at the cenotaph and a banquet and dance is to be given in the evening. Saturday sessions will see election of officers, and a joint meeting with the native daughters.

At the local post meeting William Kenny and Wilfred Pelland were initiated, and several resolutions were drafted for presentation to the convention.

View St.Victorian Order of Nurses
Badly In Need of FundsNinety Per Cent of Nursing Visits Free, Yesterday's Report ShowsInvaluable Community Service
Cared For 236 Needy
Patients in March

Unemployment and other prevailing conditions are adding a heavy load to the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses, the trying times creating impaired health among many of the adults, while special nursing care is needed for young expectant mothers and for babies. While the work of the Order is increasing—the five nurses on the local staff nursed 236 patients in March—the income has not kept pace with the growing responsibility, a total of 902 visits paid in March being free, owing to the inability of the patients and their families to meet even the small fee usually charged by the V.O.N.

NURSES' REPORT

The urgent need for more funds to carry on the work of this most humane branch of community service was stressed at yesterday's meetings of the board. Miss Thornley, the head nurse, in her analytical report for March showed that of the 236 patients nursed, 142 were medical cases; 19 communicable diseases, 5 surgical cases, 42 prenatal, 3 infants, 16 postnatal, and 9 special instruction.

In all 1,029 visits were made by the five nurses—a heavy undertaking which was classified as follows: 85 prenatal, 26 obstetrical, 26 infants of postnatal, 36 postnatal, 16 communicable diseases, 5 surgical cases, 42 prenatal, 3 infants, 16 postnatal, and 9 special instruction.

While a small fee is charged, the V.O.N. never refuses assistance and all through the difficult and trying period of depression the nurses have been able to collect less than ten per cent of the fees, thus making the task of carrying on a strenuous one of their local board, voluntarily.

Donations to assist this most valuable and necessary work are urgently asked for, and for whom the V.O.N. acknowledges donations received last month from: Miss Loughhead, Junior Auxiliary, Women's Workroom, Miss McDermott, Miss Duke, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. C. Ball, Mrs. Forbes, Miss L. McDonald, Mrs. C. Hartley, Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. McGilvery, Turner Beeton, Mrs. Warfield, Mrs. Peacock, Mrs. Arnold, A. Friend, Plans for the coming year for a garden party at the home of Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton, the president, on June 24, in aid of the funds.

Mrs. Naidu Is Freed From Gao

Poona India, April 12.—Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, poetess and Indian National Congress leader, who was sentenced in December to one year's imprisonment for disobeying an order not to leave Bombay, was released yesterday.

Mrs. Naidu, one of India's most famous women, is considered a likely leader of the national movement in event of Mahatma Gandhi's retirement or death.

This "nightingale of India," as she is called, was leader of India's insurgent forces last year while she was free and Gandhi was in prison. Gandhi once said he saw no reason why, if self-government came to India, she should not be appointed viceroy.

Mrs. Naidu is not quite fifty years of age.

A wash made by dissolving one pound of warble fly powder in a gallon of water is sufficient to treat about fifty head of cattle.

Esquimalt W.I.
Endow Hospital
Bed Memorial

At the meeting of the Esquimalt Women's Institute, held yesterday evening, in St. Paul's Parish Hall, the members were informed that the installation of the bed, given in memory of three members, Mrs. J. Holligan, Mrs. G. Brooker and Mrs. H. Pauline, had been made in the Jubilee Hospital on March 10. Provision has also been made for the upkeep.

On the same date, the anniversary of the passing of Mrs. G. Brooker, an invalid wheel chair had been donated to the Solarium in her memory, by the Esquimalt Child Hygiene Council, the presentation being made by the president, Mrs. W. H. Booth, who was accompanied by four members. A very interesting account of the visit to the Solarium was given by Mrs. Booth and the members decided to "adopt" two of the patients, Irene Brown, aged thirteen, and Grace Gould, aged one year, being the children chosen.

A donation of $5 was voted to the Canadian Legion for the tag day on April 15.

A visit to the Victoria box factory by members of the institute was arranged by Mrs. A. Saddler, convener of home industries, who also announced that arrangements had been made to visit Ormond's biscuit factory on April 26, members and their friends to meet outside the factory at 2 p.m. Members had attended the needlework exhibition at the Victoria Women's Institute and found it most educational.

Mrs. George Wise has arranged for another course of dressmaking classes, members of the institute or of the general public wishing to join may phone E 2607 for further information.

An "apron shower" will be held at the residence of Mrs. Booth, 923 Esquimalt Road, in aid of the garden party. Members are asked to prepare the aprons and the exact date of the shower will be announced later. In order to replenish the crockery of the institute, a china plate shower will be held at the May meeting. At 9 p.m. after the business session is finished members and their friends will enjoy a social evening.

Mrs. O. Hansen and Mrs. M. McDuff, two former members of the institute, received a warm welcome on their return to membership. Announcement was made that the sweater made by Mrs. Kelly had been won by E. Biles, and the pillow case donated by Mrs. Saddler, by Mrs. Booth.

Hostesses of the social hour were: Mrs. S. Wise, Mrs. W. H. Booth, Mrs. T. H. Cave, Mrs. J. Bradley and Mrs. H. E. Cresire.

Women Are To Rustle Again
Fashion Decrees

London (by Reuters).—Women are to rustle again. One London designer is equipping all of his light summer frocks with taffeta slips. He favors them for afternoon dresses—to give elegance. One of his models was a black and white tulle dress for Ascot. It rustled too, and with it was worn the same scent which Queen Victoria used to wear.

Chromium is being worn with bathing suits now. From bathtub fixtures to bathing suit accessories this metal has passed its popularity. New models show bathing costumes with a chromium non-flexible collar, a chromium flexible girdle, and a chromium monogram.

Black, lacquered satin was the material of which the blouse to a new London trend suit was made.

A smart necklace shown in London is of large, bluish pearl buttons, sewn close together on a band of material. The same buttons are used as trimming on the dress.

Long linen trousers are appearing in dress shops for women to wear on the tennis courts. Linen, made up into bell-bottomed trousers, is also favored for yachting suits.

Chinese and Japanese purchasing agents are reported to have gone in together to see a munitions maker and to have come out with a 40 per cent price reduction. That's real progress toward cutting the cost of war.

CLUBWOMEN TO HEAR OF TRIBES

Dr. J. L. Maxwell, who arrived this morning from the Orient, will address the women's Canadian Club tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at the Empire Hotel on the fascinating subject of "Among the Unknown Tribes of Central Asia." Miss Alisa Barclay will be the soloist.

WOMEN SEEK
FEDERAL JOBSRush of Office-seekers to Washington Greater Than EverCanadian Press
New York, April 12.—Emma Bugbee, writing The Herald Tribune, from Washington, says: "The great number of women seeking federal jobs presents a picture unparalleled in American political history."

"Never before have so many women been 'available for appointment.' In the words of Mrs. Nellie Taylor Rose, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee, women who in past years have worked for the Democratic Party without thought of financial reward now find themselves in need of money and unable to earn it in private business. By hundreds they have turned to the Democratic administration for the rewards they have learned are customary in politics."

"In the four weeks since their political heroes took their places in Washington, however, the women have learned a new lesson—a harder one. That is, that while it is admirable in the fall to be eloquent, impatient, evil, and fervid in defence of one's party, in the spring woman's most essential characteristic is patience. Men job hunters may make the Postmaster General's life miserable, but no woman 'available for appointment' dare be anything but amiable itself. She understands how busy every one has been these first four weeks, and how important it is to get the wheels of government running smoothly."

POSTMASTERSHIP POPULAR

The appointment of Miss Frances Perkins as Secretary of Labor, coupled with frequent friendly remarks about women in politics from the heads of the country, have led women throughout the country to expect the reward they need. They have their eye, not only on positions in Washington, but on federal posts in their home cities. Postmasterhips are especially appealing to the women 'available for appointment.'"

These are popular with women because they are not involve pulling stakes and moving to Washington, and although they are civil service appointments, not a woman in her right mind feels competent to pass the examinations. Also highly desirable from the women's point of view are positions as collectors of customs and soldiers of internal revenue. Numerous women lawyers are seeking positions as assistant United States attorneys and as counsellors in other government offices.

"Women are now eligible to all the positions the government has to fill, and, of course, should they have the proper qualifications. They do not ask to be appointed just because they are women, but on the other hand, they insist that they be not disqualified just because they are women."

"Never before in a political overturn did women take so active a part as did the Democratic women in last fall's election. It is natural, since they worked so hard, that they now hope for a share in the rewards. They look upon it as a legitimate field for their continued efforts."

A trial-shipment of milk-fed chickens from Nova Scotia was marketed recently in London, England.

CLEANERS & DYERS"I Do Not Think Their Equal
Can Be Found For Children"

"I have BABY'S OWN TABLETS in the house continually—I would not be without them. I have given them to each of my four children from earliest infancy. One of the reasons why I value BABY'S OWN TABLETS so highly is because they can be given with perfect safety to even the youngest infant. I have recommended them to dozens of Mothers. For children's ailments I do not think their equal can be found." So writes Mrs. Douglas Blackadar, Hebron, N.S.—and many other Mothers relate similar experiences in treating their children. BABY'S OWN TABLETS are recommended by grateful Mothers for teething fevers, colds, colic, constipation, disordered digestion and sleeplessness. The Tablets are inexpensive, easy to take and thoroughly reliable. And they are absolutely SAFE for even the youngest or most delicate child. Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

REGULAR HABITS INFLUENCE
FUTURE BEHAVIOR

Mothers who scoff at regular habits for babies, who think that baby knows when he should be nursed better than the mother, are blind to the relationship between the child's regular habits, established and enforced by the mother, and his future good conduct. How can the child learn to respect any but his own desires when his past experience has taught him that he gets what he wants when he wants it? How can he learn that there is more joy in anticipation than in an instant realization of every desire, if all during his babyhood he cried and was fed?

HAZARD FEEDING

Mrs. J. D. L. has just such a child in her own immediate family. In a plea for modern methods, regularity, and knowledge of feeding she writes: "My nephew has reached the age of three years, during which time he was apparently a perfect specimen. He was never nursed, had no schedule of feeding, and his mother insisted that he would give anything to be back three years and given another chance with that boy."

He was never fed anything but milk, and when he arrived at the age when other foods were desirable, he refused to eat them or couldn't keep them down. He has no regular habits, his stomach shows no signs of being any earthly use to him, and while he had a few teeth at the expected time, he is still teething and with convulsions. He was a sweet baby, but now has a terrible disposition.

"To my mind a knowledge of dietetics is of paramount importance to every mother. I attribute my baby's good health and sweet disposition to a schedule of good habits and an observance of modern diet rules."

DEVELOPS A PROBLEM

We must know when to relax the rather rigid schedules of infancy and allow them to become more flexible. But the mother who foolishly allows baby to dictate his own schedule of feeding teaches him nothing except that his will is law. It isn't strange that as he grows, he demands more and more liberty to do as he pleases, and becomes the stubborn disobedient child who is a problem in the home. The baby should be kept to an impersonal schedule that is dominated by the clock and not by the child's impetuous demands to be fed. It is one method by which we acquaint him with authority and make it possible to teach him, as he grows, an increasing number of necessary rules and regulations surrounding conduct.

To-morrow, "Minimum and Maximum Formulas are Checks to Poor Feeding."

IS NOW MILNE
OF TOP FORM"Christopher Robin" Now
Twelve and School BoxerDr. Reuter's special to Victoria Times
London.—Christopher Robin has grown up. He is no longer the little boy for whom "Winnie-the-Pooh," "When We Were Very Young," and "Now We Are Six" were written.

Because "Winnie-the-Pooh" is a funny story, it is dead and Christopher Robin is known as Milne, of the top form.

His father, A. A. Milne, the author and playwright, has ceased to write his world-famous whimsical nursery stories and rhymes since his son started to achieve the sedateness of advancing years. Instead he writes psychological adult plays and mystery stories.

And in a "prep" school near Guildford, Surrey, is the grown-up boy of twelve for whom it was written:

"Christopher Robin goes Noddy, hoppy, hoppy, hop. Whenever I tell him Polity to stop it he Says he can't possibly stop."

Now Christopher Robin, instead of hopping, is the most dangerous heavy weight boxer in the school and he weighs nearly seven stone. He is tall and he sings solo parts in the choir.

Moreover, he is a fine batsman. He swims. He runs, and "Piglet" thinks he is a crashing forward.

The University Women's Club will present a play, "Christopher Robin at Home," in which "Winnie-the-Pooh" and other of Milne's delightful characters will re-appear, at the Victoria High School, April 21 and 22, under the direction of Reginald Hinxton.

"The Tangle"

A Novel by

H. LAWRENCE PHILLIPS

Author of "Cap'n Benny" and "A Friendless Millionaire"

"They've done their best to keep it quiet, and succeeded so far. But I suppose those newspaper men will be nosing it out sooner or later." Just then they heard the sound of a car stopping, and the Inspector went to the window to see who had arrived, and came back to announce that the Chief himself had come, going off out of the house to meet him.

Gray followed, to find a tall, burly-looking man of military appearance, behind whom was standing a young fellow whose cheerful-looking, almost boyish countenance and curly golden hair he recognized immediately, and stepped forward, extending his hand, exclaiming at he did so—

"Why, it's 'Curly Greens' by all that's wonderful!" While the young fellow he thus addressed responded by a wink, the other man surveyed Gray with a coldly official eye.

"Who is this gentleman, Inspector?" he inquired.

The perturbed officer was about to explain when Gray anticipated him.

"I'm the Vicar of this parish, and the local constable called me to help him when this dreadful crime was discovered, hence my presence now. Your friend happens to have been a fan of mine, whom I am glad to meet again."

The young man winked again, with eyes full of laughter, as his superior officer said jolly—

"Detective-Sergeant Manson will be glad to see you, I daresay, but I must ask you pardon if I proceed with him upon the necessary investigation connected with this sad affair. I don't think that I need detain you," he added majestically.

Gray felt snubbed, but was glad to get away, and with a nod to Manson proceeded to let himself out. He had reached the threshold when a hand was laid on his shoulder, and he turned to meet a pair of grey eyes, dancing with glee, looking into his.

"Gray, old man, this is an unexpected treat. Can I buzz in after I've got through the 'necessary investigations,' and can you put me up? The old chap is great fun, hung up with conceit."

"Come as soon as you can, and stay as long as you like."

"Right-o!" responded the cheerful youth, and departed, leaving Gray to wonder by what strange chain of circumstances "Curly Greens" had developed into Detective-Sergeant Manson.

The latter rejoined the Chief Constable, to find him in earnest conversation with the Inspector, who was looking worried and continually referring to his notebook.

"This is rather an involved business, Sergeant, but from what the Inspector tells me there are few or no clues to the perpetrator of this outrageous crime."

Manson, whose eyes had been wandering over the room, suppressed a smile at the pompous words.

"Shall we go over the house, sir, and then we can consider such data as the Inspector has been able to gather?"

The three men then proceeded to do as suggested, and Manson's keen eyes spotted the stains in the hall, and stooping down to study them more closely he produced a rule and notebook, taking careful measurements and entering them up.

"I spotted them of course, Sergeant, and measured them. It's very simple, that they are those of a woman and a man."

"Have you compared these measurements with hers?"

The Inspector, looking rather confused, said that he had not done so yet.

"Very remiss, Inspector, I must say, in a case of this kind the smallest detail is of importance." Thus the Chief Constable portentously.

Manson's irrepressible smile began to flit over his face.

"An oversight soon mended," he said lightly. "Perhaps we can proceed to do so. Where is the body placed?"

Just then they heard the sound of a car stopping, and the Inspector went to the window to see who had arrived, and came back to announce that the Chief himself had come, going off out of the house to meet him.

Uncle Wiggily and the Bird's Nest

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily, the spotted dog and Willie the Worm stood in the middle of a green meadow looking at one another. Willie had just said something very important. It was this:

"I know how to get the spots off that dog!"

Willie and Uncle Wiggily had been out looking for an adventure, as I told you in the story last night. Then, all of a sudden, along came running the dog who was going fast, as if to a fire, and he was shouting, "Look out! Look out! He's got the spots off!"

But he did not know how to get rid of his spots nor did Uncle Wiggily, and then spoke Willie the Worm. "How do you think I can lose my spots?" asked the dog. "You are the first one who has given me any hope. I can't scratch off my spots, I can't rub them out and running fast didn't make me lose them. But you say, Willie, that you know how I can get rid of my spots?"

"Yes, I do," said Willie the Worm. "How?" asked the spotted dog. "Oh, joy! I never thought it could happen. Oh, joy!"

"Do not bark too soon," warned Uncle Wiggily. "It doesn't seem to me that a worm would know how to make a dog lose his spots. Not that I want to say anything against you, Willie, but you are sure you can do it?"

"Sure I can," murmured Willie. "I have often helped to unspotted dogs."

"They begin on me as soon as you can, if you please," barked the dog. "Oh, I am so tired of my spots."

All of a sudden Willie the Worm began crawling around very fast. He moved his little head from side to side and his tiny eyes sparkled like the beads of two pins going to a doll's party.

"What are you looking for?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"A mud puddle," answered Willie. "You aren't going to leave us, are you?" barked the dog. "I know you angle worms eat mud and live in the mud. So if you are looking for a puddle now maybe you are going to crawl away."

"Oh, no," answered Willie the Worm. "You see I need a lot of mud to cover up, or paint out, the spots on the dog. It's the only way for him to get rid of them. Cover them up with mud!"

"It seems rather queer," said Uncle Wiggily.

Then, all of a sudden, the spotted dog began to howl.

"What's the matter?" asked Willie. "I'm afraid you'll turn me into a mud turtle," whined the dog.

"Nonsense! Nothing of the sort!" murmured the worm. "You'll be a dog the same as before. But I'm going to cover your spots with mud and if you leave it on long enough when the mud dries and you brush it off the spots will come off with it. You may be a mud dog for a while but you won't be a mud turtle."

"That's all right, thank you," barked the dog. "But do you think I will have stylish stripes after my spots come off with the mud?"

"No," said Willie the Worm. "I can't say that. We'll go into the matter of stripes after you get rid of your spots. But now I see a nice, gooey, mucky puddle with lots of mud. Hold still and I'll cover your spots for you."

So the dog stood very still and Willie the Worm, crawling in the mud, brought out cute little globes which he spread on spot after spot of the dog until every one was covered over.

"Wait a little while for it to dry," said Willie, "and when you brush the mud off the spots will come with it."

"How clever you are!" barked the dog.

"Isn't he," said Uncle Wiggily. And just then a swallow bird flew down out of the barn and sang:

"Oh, if I only had some mud to finish my nest! Oh, where can I find some nice, soft mud?"

"Why, here you are," said Uncle Wiggily. "There's a lot of mud which Willie has left after covering the dog's spots and I'm sure it will finish your nest, swallow."

"Oh, that's fine!" sang the bird as she darted to and fro, skimming through the air. "With enough mud to finish my nest, I can lay eggs and hatch out my little swallows. Thank you all so much!"

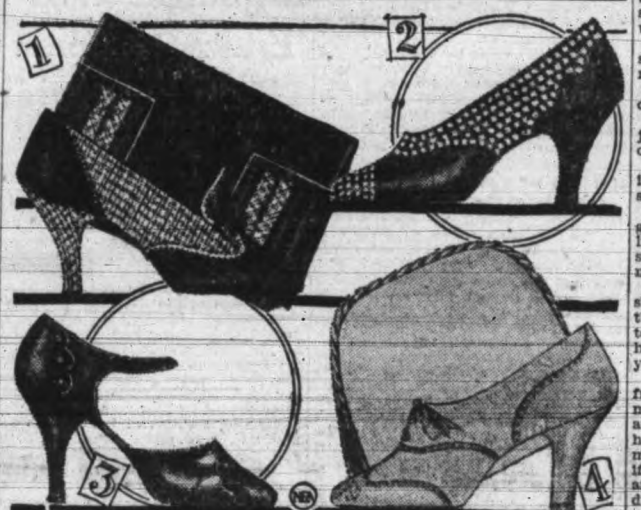

So the swallow took enough mud from the puddle in her beak to finish making her nest and then the bunny and Willie waited to see what would happen to the dog's spots when the mud had dried on them. And next, if the yellow cat, doesn't turn brown after it eats the baby's chocolate pudding when the can opener goes out to get some sugar for it, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the dog's bone.

SPRING FOOTNOTES

Chic, Comfort March Side by Side

By JOAN SAVOY

New shoes will make you anxious to put both feet forward in the spring fashion parade.

Shoes this year go in for comfort, for style and for some little ideas of their own about fabrics, colors, novelty ways of making themselves part of a costume and indispensable to chic.

There are oxfords and pumps for practical and formal daytime wear. One-strapped sandals for those women who like a dressy touch to the feet.

Tongue pumps, one-eyel, pumps (really a low-cut oxford), and beautiful hand-made oxfords come in all the new basic costume colors, with blue and gray predominating.

There undoubtedly will be more feet stepping along in gray this year than ever have been before. Plum and green are in the race, but not nearly so many of them. Deep, ruddy-browns, soft-leaf browns, in-between beige and brown-browns—these are very smart, not to mention beige things.

For an all black costume or a black and white one, a novelty tongue-pump (No. 1 in the sketch) uses a plaid fabric with black kid to give a handsome bit of contrast. The pump is black, with little insets of the plaid, to make it the perfect accompaniment to the pumps.

For your chic blue suit, this polka dotted blue pump (2) is a boon. Its polka dots are ingenious—square eyelets in the blue kid reveal white dotted lining—giving the polka dotted effect. The tip and top of the pump is dotted, the vamp and the heel are blue.

Shoes that employ buttons and buttonholes for decoration are very new and intriguing. This one (3) is brown kid, piped in beige, with beige buttons slipping through beige-outlined holes, the vamp and the quarter. It is the newest kind of a strapped sandal, plus a delicate, slender little strap to hold it fast to the ankle, very dressy.

Very new is the gray cloth shoe (4) made of a fine rep with matching gray kid toe and quarter, all beautifully stitched with the new punch work. This oxford has a very comfortable leather heel, ties with gray grosgrain ribbon laces. With it there is a handsome gray kid pump with a twisted gold frame.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1933

After the early morning bad adverse aspects are strongly dominant to-day, according to astrology. It is a day to protect one's assets and interests and to be on guard.

Under this planetary government destructive forces are active, and the day is a day to protect one's assets and interests and to be on guard.

Jealousies are an aspect supposed to encourage intrigue and double-dealing. The day is threatening not only to civil affairs, but to international relations.

Wrong thinking and superficial judgment may be prevalent while this configuration prevails. The wise will study before criticizing.

Seers advise every man and woman to spy out personal faults and to start careful reforms in small things.

This is not an auspicious day for seeking employment or asking favors. Men and women who would profit of any sort may be exceedingly preoccupied under this rule of the stars.

Although many negative forces appear to be prevalent at this time there is promise of positive success for all who use their best energies in the future.

Danger of difficulties involving Russia, Germany and France is foreseen by astrologers, who find that the stars presage serious perils to the peace of Europe.

Women are again subject to planetary influences that encourage the art of sewing, dressmaking and embroidery work may be popular and prevalent during the summer months.

Those who do not sew for themselves are to find plenty to do in providing clothing for children, it is foretold.

This is a sinister day for romance. Young men will feel the state of their pocketbooks in the condition of their hearts, it is prophesied, even though the spring-time lures them toward love-making.

The planetary government favors friendship instead of sentimental affairs, it is foretold, but the summer is to be a time of much courtship.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes. There may be a temptation to indulge in disputes, but the wise will avoid quarrels.

Children born on this day probably will be successful and energetic. The subjects of this sign usually achieve whatever they deem worthy of their ambition.

Richard T. Ely, noted economist, was born on this day, 1854.

Keep House As Economic Course

Winnipeg, April 12 (Canadian Press)—Home management is not a mere academic course of studies for girls taking the home economics course at Manitoba Agricultural College.

For at least one month in each of their last two years, girls have to "keep house" with all the myriad duties it entails. They take their turn at planning and cooking meals, mending, tending babies and generally making the home machinery run smoothly.

Beginning as an experiment four years ago, the students' "home" has developed into a permanent institution. It is now located in a snug little brick cottage on the campus and it is the only thing of its kind in Canada, with the exception of a students' house at Acadia. And the girls love it.

"Make people smile again," is one of Bernard Baruch's suggestions for combating the depression. Maybe, somebody ought to hitch a horse to an automobile.

Auto drivers condemn the practice, saying: "If you might find it would speed things up to let their clutch slip a little."

Premier Silent On Date For Election

Cabinet Will Be Reorganized and Platform Drafted, He Says

Government Leader Speaks at Saanich Conservative Meeting

No new indication of his political plans were given by Premier Tolmie when he made his first public appearance since the Legislature closed before a meeting of the Saanich Conservative Association yesterday evening. The Premier professed his request to T. D. Pattullo, Liberal Leader, to join him in the formation of a union government was made in all sincerity, but intimated negotiations were now closed.

Dr. Tolmie repeated he would reorganize his cabinet and then prepare a platform for presentation to the people preparatory to an election. He gave no intimation when this would be done. Reports that the Premier may go outside the party ranks in his re-organization were strenuously denied by his announcement that he would appeal to men interested in the prosperity of British Columbia to support him.

In opening his address, the Premier thanked the Saanich Conservative Association for its recent vote of confidence in him. He proceeded to briefly review the work of the session just closed, claiming the government majorities had always been sustained on important votes.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Touching on unemployment, he said the government would prefer to give men work, but had been unable to do so. Appeals to the Dominion Government for that purpose had failed, because that government was not in a position to comply. The Premier summarized declining revenues and falling markets after claiming economic conditions now were worse than they were before the Great War. He said of the government's efforts to build up new markets, which he claimed was the healthiest policy to pursue to bring back prosperity and normal conditions.

The Premier said that there were signs of a revival of trade. The Russian treaty with Great Britain would be absorbed this month, and there was a further possibility that an embargo might be placed on goods of the Soviets entering the United Kingdom. Prospects were also brighter in other markets.

Regarding his political plans, the Premier remarked:

"Realizing that this was a time when everything else should be set aside and an effort made to restore conditions in the country, I made a second appeal to the Leader of the Opposition for the creation of a union between the Liberal and Conservative parties, with a view to setting aside party bickering and to unite for the period of the depression, and thus hasten the return of prosperity. I pointed out that since my appeal to him in September last, economic conditions in the province and throughout the world had steadily become more acute, and a point had been reached that was never anticipated by the most far seeing."

"I also stressed the fact that no estimate could be made of the length of the present depression and no one could predict what the future might bring forth. In asking for this, I stated that I was praying the interests of the province and the welfare of our people before any political consideration."

"I suggested also that we unite in the manner in which it was done in Great Britain, so that we would not in any way interfere with the approaching federal election. I urged this union on the ground of assuring ourselves that we would secure stable government, and wound up by saying 'I think this is one time when we should forget partisanship, and for the present associate ourselves for the benefit of the province and the people.' This, as you know, was rejected by Mr. Pattullo."

"The fact was made plain, and with nothing but the best wishes for the success of such a union under the circumstances, to find that a henchman of Mr. Pattullo, when speaking in Saanich constituency, is quoted as follows: 'The value of the Union administration depended on the good faith of the proposer.' He went on further to say that the proposals put before Mr. Pattullo had not been honest and bona fide. I take strong exception to these remarks, as no proposal could have been made with greater sincerity, and I consider this gentleman's remarks unfair and unjustified."

CABINET REORGANIZATION

"Having failed to form a direct union with the Liberals, we will now proceed with our programme and reorganize the Cabinet as promised in September last. Our platform will then be prepared and presented to the people, being followed in due time by preparations for an election. In laying down our platform, we will invite the participation of all those who are interested in the prosperity of our province, and will ask them to join hands and place the province before party in an effort to bring back prosperity and work for our people until the end of the depression."

LEARNED EXTRAVAGANCE

"During recent years, when we have been enjoying a period of prosperity, I am afraid that we learned extravagance quite in keeping with the 'easy money' of the times. This is not only true of all governments and municipalities, but of practically all business men, and a majority of individuals have transgressed and suffered as a result. In conducting the business of this province, one thing we must do is to live within our means and pay as we go. If we cannot pay, then don't go. In other words, we must balance our budget—this is not a matter of choice, but an absolute necessity if we are to hold our credit."

"As we get back on our feet, then taxes should be lowered as rapidly as practicable. We must observe strict economy in our administration. We have shown our grasp of the situation by cutting down the expenses of government seven and a half millions in the last two years—certainly a remarkable record, and I am sure that every citizen who has a dollar invested in a home or in a business will fully appreciate this."

RECORD OF LIBERALS

"During the session we heard much boasting from the Leader of the Opposition as to what he will do if an election is called, and how, in his opinion, he will win that election and then carry on the business of the country in a way that has not been accomplished in the past. This is all

RADIO BAN CHALLENGED

A. H. McMillan of Brooklyn, N.Y., traveling representative of the Watch Tower group, addressed an audience in the City Temple yesterday evening, challenging the right of the Canadian Radio Commission to ban the radio broadcasts of Judge J. P. Rutherford, religious lecturer.

The speaker challenged the commission to allow representatives of all churches in Canada to meet Judge Rutherford in a public debate. A petition on this matter and another asking the Dominion Government to override the commission in regard to the ban were presented to the meeting. C. H. Green acted as chairman.

Port Alberni

Port Alberni, April 12.—Dr. C. M. Pineo returned on Monday from a ten days' visit at Ucluelet and Tofino.

Miss Bernice Manning was a hostess at the tea hour on Saturday, when the invited guests were the Misses Judith Smith, A. Hobson, D. Probert, G. Hillas, E. Hanes, M. Brown, L. Smith, Ethel and Kate Manning and Flo. Noble. Miss Evelyn Hanes of the staff of the High School was hostess for the Individual Contract Bridge Club on Saturday, when the prize for high score was won by Miss Edwards. Other guests present were: Mrs. J. B. Dalton, Mrs. E. J. Cronk, Mrs. E. Couthard, Miss Edwards, G. Hillas, L. Smith and Mrs. G. Stocker.

Miss Nell Heath of the staff of the Bank of Montreal left last week to take up training on the nursing staff of the Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops.

very well. However, we must all acknowledge the need for stable government, and this was never so great as at present. It would be a very queer thing if British Columbia, in its effort to get back on its feet, and to practice strict economy, should select as its leader, the Leader of the Opposition, who, with his associates, was notorious for flagrant extravagance during their twelve years of office from 1918 to 1928. You are all pretty well familiar with what happened at that time. Remember that these twelve years were perhaps the most prosperous twelve years in the history of British Columbia, and even under those conditions, he had ten deficits out of twelve, aggregating nearly $17,000,000, and only two surpluses aggregating less than half a million dollars.

"I think that every sensible person will admit that the time to save money is when making it, and to get out of debt when times are good. If the province had been well conducted at that time, we would not find ourselves in our present position, compelled to exercise many economies when we are least able to do so."

Fire Department Plans Amended

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 12.—Alderman George C. Miller has agreed to yield his economy knife on the fire department with only half the severity he originally planned.

At a conference with Fire Chief C. W. Thompson and representatives of fire insurance companies yesterday, the finance committee chairman undertook to add up to $85,000 to the department's 1933 appropriation.

This leaves the chief still facing economies between $50,000 and $100,000. To meet that sum, he declared, he would have to close some outlying halls, and either cut wages, rotate jobs, or lay off a number of firemen.

He said he would be prepared early next week to say exactly what reductions he would have to make.

Alberni

Alberni, April 12.—No. 1 Alberni Girl Guides were hosts at a tea and sale of home cooking Friday at the Athletic Hall, under the convener'ship of Capt. S. Cosens. The prize for the drawing of the Royal Doulton tea set was won by the ticket held by J. Lawrenson. Mrs. R. Mollard was in charge of fish pond, and Gladys Olsen had charge of the home cooking stall. A programme of dancing was presented by: Lily Jacobson, tap dance; Edith Bower, Highland fling; Edie Smith and Mabel Brand, Welsh dance. The group of the guides who are competing at the forthcoming musical festival at Nanaimo, presented their test Tetronella dance.

PENSION CUT IS OPPOSED

The proposed elimination of pensions for civil servant veterans was discussed at a meeting of the Amalgamated Civil Servants, Victoria local, in the Law Chambers yesterday evening.

Letters were read from the national office of the organization stating it was working in full co-operation with returned soldier bodies seeking to rescind the order.

The group convention will be held in Windsor, Ontario, next September. Rich "Velvet" Furniture Beauty with Shoen Polish. Get some to-day. Sold everywhere.

Now...a 1/3 BIGGER Yeast Cake for the same price!

"THINK OF IT—IT'S ACTUALLY ONE-THIRD CHEAPER TO EAT FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST NOW! DOCTORS SAY JUST EAT ONE OF THE NEW, LARGE-SIZE CAKES BEFORE BREAKFAST AND ONE AT BEDTIME—EVERY DAY"

YES, it's the same Fleischmann's Yeast! But it's a bigger cake... one-third bigger. And at no increase in price. Isn't that news?

Think what it means. The same health benefits—the same wonderful relief from constipation, stomach and skin disorders and that "run-down" feeling—but at one-third less expense now!

If you're troubled with headaches—bad breath—bad skin—a coated tongue—you need Fleischmann's Yeast. It will help you "regulate" your system—actually strengthen your bowels—restore your elimination to normal and so cleanse your body of poisons in a gentle, natural way.

And you know that when this happens you will feel really healthy again... with no more need for "gripping" cathartics and pills.

So take the doctors' advice. Add Fleischmann's Yeast to your diet and eat it regularly, two times every day—one cake when you get up in the morning and another before supper or when you go to bed—just plain, or dissolved in a third of a glass of water.

Try the new, larger cake now!

At any grocery store, and at most restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains you can now get the new, large-size cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast at the same price you paid for the smaller cake before.

Only Fleischmann's Yeast, you know, contains all three vitamins—B, G and D—that we all need. So ask for Fleischmann's Yeast—in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow label. It's yeast in its freshest, effective form—the kind doctors recommend. Start to eat Fleischmann's Yeast today!

DR. AGASSE-LAFONT, noted French stomach specialist, says: "Fresh yeast strengthens the intestines... restores normal action... tones up health."

Varicose Veins
Rapidly Reduced

Simple Home Treatment That is Giving Amazing Results.

If you have varicose veins or bunions you can start to do to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any drug store and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is also a marvelous healing agent. Any application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruptions to dry up, scale off, and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in relieving itchy, salt rheum, redness, and inflammatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. MacFarlane Drug Co., B.C. Drugs Ltd., and leading drug stores sell lots of it.

LOW TEMPERATURE
RECORD ANNOUNCED

At University of California
Prof. W. F. Giauque and Aides Reduce Substance to 459.1 Degrees Below Zero
Fahrenheit

Berkeley, Cal., April 12.—Attainment of the coldest temperature yet created by man, 459.1 below zero Fahrenheit, was announced today by the University of California.

This achievement of Prof. W. F. Giauque, assisted by C. E. Nelson, mechanician, and D. P. MacDougall, research assistant, was made possible by the use of a magnetic cycle process which Prof. Giauque developed.

The mark reached is within 25 degrees centigrade of the absolute absence of heat. The temperature is infinitely colder than that of liquid helium, and considerably lower than any point yet obtained by processes involving previously known methods of refrigeration.

Although Prof. Giauque does not speculate on the practical significance his approach to absolute zero, experimenters generally have held that attainment of practical zero is essential to the solution of numerous scientific problems.

Among the theories advanced is that the practical absence of heat is necessary as a preliminary to the creation of a perfect vacuum, that new low temperatures can be applied to the manufacture of a super-metal, and that this laboratory research will contribute to the study of the structure of the atom.

The substance cooled by Prof. Giauque was gadolinium sulphate octahydrate—in other words, a compound of gadolinium, a metallic element discovered in 1880.

"TORY BLUNDER"
The Minister of Finance had "made the best of a bad job" in his budget speech, Dr. T. F. Donnelly, Liberal, Willow Bunch, Sask., told the House.

"The public generally look on the budget as another Tory blunder," he continued. "They can see no good in it. The tax on sugar hits them in the face. It enters into the home. The government is taxing the candy out of the mouths of babies."

"This budget is known throughout the length and breadth of the land as the diabetic budget because it exempts people who, because of their physical condition, cannot eat sugar," said Dr. Donnelly.

FINE CAST AT THE DOMINION

Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers,
Lew Ayres and Sally Eilers
Star in "State Fair"

Surpassing in entertainment values and supreme in characterization, Fox Film's eagerly awaited "State Fair" measures up to everything that could be expected from the winning combination of great star cast and great story.

The picture opened to-day at the Dominion Theatre.

To provide ideal roles for a galaxy of stars, including Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory is an assignment which only a story rich in human characteristics could fill. "State Fair" does it perfectly.

The intriguing characters of Phil Stong's Literary Guild prize novel are made to live and breathe by the stars of the picture. All the charm, realism and atmosphere of the book have been enhanced in the screen version.

Thanks to the expert direction by Henry King and the skilful screen play adaptation by Sonya Levien and Paul Green, Mary falls in love with a young reporter who is "covering" the fair.

Penha's playing of the Boccherini "cello concerto was the highlight of Portland's musical season," a recent reviewer wrote. It will be remembered that Mr. Penha was prevented from giving a recital last time he was here by arm and shoulder trouble that developed suddenly.

On Thursday, April 20, the quartette and Mr. Linsley will be heard in a concert which promises to be as enjoyable as Mr. Penha's recital. Both programmes will be given at 8.30 o'clock, commencing at 8.30 o'clock, and both are under the auspices of the enterprising Beaupre Arts.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE
Jean Harlow, famed platinum blonde, has the leading role in "Red Dust," now the feature picture at the Playhouse Theatre. Playing opposite her in the leading role is handsome Clark Gable.

Jean Harlow was born in Kansas City. Before reaching stardom she spent a short time as a Hollywood extra. Her first feature picture was "Hell's Angels." Since then she has made "Platinum Blonde" and "Beat of the City."

EMPIRE THEATRE
The story of "The Lodger" is now showing at the Empire Theatre, that of a foreign-looking man who might be a musician, who secured lodgings in the West of London, and became a problem to the landlady and her husband. Ivor Novello plays the part of the strange lodger with just that mystery.

BRITISH COMEDY
Coming to Empire
Winifred Shottler and Owen Nares head the cast of "The Love Contract," produced at the British and Dominion studios at Boreham Wood and coming to the Empire Theatre for six days, starting Friday.

"The Love Contract" is a light comedy, and Miss Shottler will be seen in it as a rich young woman who suddenly loses all her money and is subsequently employed as a chauffeur by the man who buys up her house. The plot includes musical numbers, written by Ralph Benatzky, the famous composer of the music of "White Horse Inn" and "Casanova."

"Y" COLLECTORS SECURE $5,000
Half of First Objective Reached, Reports Issued To-day Announce
After a careful check-up by officials in charge of the campaign this morning, the total collected in the Y.M.C.A. annual financial drive was reported slightly below $4,000, half of the objective set at the start of the canvass. Hope was entertained that energetic work in winding up the affair would bring in another $1,500, sorely needed to carry on the association's work.
Those working on the drive will meet this evening at 6.15 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. for the final dinner report meeting, but collections will continue yet for a while.
Leaders of the campaign to-day expressed their appreciation of the assistance given them by those who had already made donations. The association men realized the straightened financial condition of many of their patrons and saw all the more pleased to see them show their confidence in the work of the "Y" by giving in times of stress.
It will require a considerable amount of work to make the collections which the association leaders are looking forward to in the immediate future, but with the canvassers co-operating as they have in the first week of the drive, the leaders look to the future with strong hopes for the material growth of the fund.

Partial Justification For Their Aggression in Manchuria Is Related
Dr. J. L. Maxwell Says Area Formerly Ruled By Self-seeking War Lords
Japan had certain justifiable grounds for aggression in China, inasmuch as the Japanese were largely independent of the Nanking government and factions, which warred among themselves for personal aggrandisement. Dr. James Laidlaw Maxwell, medical missionary in China and student of that country's questions for the last thirty years, told the Canadian Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day. Dr. Maxwell arrived this morning from the Orient on the Ss. Empress of Canada.

Many Obstacles
While China had brought much trouble upon itself in recent years, the central government at Nanking, Dr. Maxwell said, should first consider other countries and their conditions, and remember that China had to face, in addition to foreign aggression, the havoc of floods, famines, anarchy and strife. Under such obstacles China continued to amaze him with its marvelous recuperative powers. Friendly Help Suggests Plan to City; Easter Donations Asked For

Edwin R. Halifax, Secretary For Chinese Affairs, Bound to London

KNOWS CHINA INTIMATELY
Edwin R. Halifax, Secretary For Chinese Affairs, Bound to London
Few men know more about Chinese affairs than Edwin R. Halifax, C.M.G., C.B.E., secretary for Chinese affairs at Hongkong, who passed through Victoria to-day on his way from China to Great Britain.
He is accompanied by Mrs. Halifax and their daughter. A graduate of Balliol College, Oxford, Mr. Halifax went out to Hongkong as a cadet as far back as 1897 and his career has been a most spectacular one.
After serving as fire brigade superintendent, emigration agent, and police magistrate he became registrar-general and member of the legislative council at Hongkong in 1911, later becoming secretary for Chinese affairs. He has been acting colonial secretary on various occasions. He is now on a mission to London.

Partial Justification For Their Aggression in Manchuria Is Related
Dr. J. L. Maxwell Says Area Formerly Ruled By Self-seeking War Lords
Japan had certain justifiable grounds for aggression in China, inasmuch as the Japanese were largely independent of the Nanking government and factions, which warred among themselves for personal aggrandisement. Dr. James Laidlaw Maxwell, medical missionary in China and student of that country's questions for the last thirty years, told the Canadian Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day. Dr. Maxwell arrived this morning from the Orient on the Ss. Empress of Canada.

McLarnin To Meet Corbett In Title Match On May 20

Vancouver Batter to Get Chance at Welterweight Crown in Los Angeles Bout

CHAMPION GETS FAT GUARANTEE

Fight Will Be Over Ten Rounds; Corbett's First Defence of His Crown

Los Angeles, April 12.—Jimmy McLarnin, long tagged "the uncrowned king of the welterweights," is going to trade punches with the wearer of the diadem, Young Corbett.

The little purveyor of leather hurricanes, who hails from Vancouver, will be given the opportunity, for which he has long pined, on the night of May 20, over ten rounds. Promoter Jack Doyle announced that the fight will be staged in Wrigley Field here.

The Canadian Irishman has used the killing power he carries in either hand to bowl over most of the bestmen in his class. But the crown has always been just beyond his reach.

The only real black mark on his long record was left when Billy Petrolle thumped him roundly in 1930, but he redeemed himself in a return bout.

CORBETT GETS $35,000

George Blake has been decided upon as the referee, and the weight will be 147 pounds at 2 p.m., the day of the bout.

Under the agreement Corbett will receive a flat guarantee of $35,000 with a percentage of the gate grosses more than $100,000.

The match has been in the making for more than a month. Jack Keeling, manager of Jackie Fields, from whom Corbett won the title recently in San Francisco, originally had insisted that Larry White, Corbett's manager, keep his agreement to meet the former champion before he went up against McLarnin.

Keeling later relented and demanded that the winner meet Fields as his first opponent. This was agreeable with Corbett, but McLarnin's manager refused to make such a contract and the fight was off again. Keeling then stepped out of the official picture.

White and Foster ran into disagreements over a referee, and the amount of money to be allowed for wrapping of the hands. Foster wanted the mission to use six feet of adhesive tape and all the tape desired. White held out for four feet of adhesive. Foster then came down to five, and White held his ground at four.

WHITE GIVES IN

With the fate of the bout apparently hanging on the slender strip of tape a foot long, White gave in to the point of allowing four feet six inches, and Foster gave the matter his O.K.

The bout will mark Corbett's first defence of his title since the Fresno southpaw won an easy decision from Fields in Seals Stadium. McLarnin got his start in boxing fighting in Vancouver, but gained his prestige in eastern rings after his arrival here. Apparently he had decided his future was limited.

Bowling Scores

Smashing the maples for a record-breaking total of 3,135, Jokers yesterday evening just about ruined second-half championship aspirations of the Times five in the Olympic Senior Ten-pin League. Rolling only four men, the newbies were unable to cope with the hot pace of their opponents and dropped three straight, while the Imperial Oil squad handed similar treatment to the Fuddle Doo and jumped into a two-game lead with only two sessions more to be played.

Four members of the Jokers went over the 600 mark to compile the record total. Art Porter led the parade with 683, Ron Wilson had 662, Al Fink 647 and Alec Potts 605. For the Times Fred Young was the only one in the select group with 661.

MONCTON SET RECORDS IN ALLAN CUP VICTORY

Hawks Made History in Canadian Amateur Hockey by Being the First Team From the Maritimes to Win the Cup and the First Club to Score Shut-outs in the Final

Vancouver, April 12.—"I think it is the greatest thing that ever happened for hockey in the Maritimes," said Ambrose Wheeler, manager of Moncton's victorious Hawks, 1933 Allan Cup winners, Hawks landed the Dominion senior amateur title Monday night when they defeated Saskatoon Quakers 2 to 0 after taking the first game Saturday, 3 to 0.

"It's been a hard fight," continued the far from volatile Hawk mentor. "Two years ago, we in Moncton decided that it was time the Maritimes got some place in hockey and the Hawks certainly came through in great style this season. They are a wonderful bunch of boys and worked hard for the two years to get where they are today. On behalf of the team I wish to express deep appreciation at the kindness and courtesy extended the team since leaving Moncton, not only while engaged in the first playdowns in Halifax, but throughout Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast."

LARWOOD WILL START SEASON

Famous English Cricket Bowler Recovers From Injury Received in Australia

London, April 12.—Harold Larwood, noted English bowler who created a stir in test cricket circles with his "bodyline bowling" in Australia this winter, hopes to be able to play at the opening of the coming cricket season.

Larwood suffered injury to his foot in the final of the test matches which saw the return to England of the mythical "ashes" and has since been severely handicapped. He was told by his doctor yesterday, however, his injury was not serious and this finding was welcome as earlier reports which intimated the famous trundler might be out of the game for some weeks.

Larwood has remained silent concerning his "bodyline" attack, but recently intimated he would employ the style in the county cricket this summer.

Active Summer Season Planned

Y.M.C.A. to Start Outdoor Activities at End of Month; Many Events Carded

Running, Swimming, Circus and Other Athletics Listed As Features

With a series of special events, including the annual circus, Y.M.C.A. championship swimming gala, association track meet and special gatherings at which plans for the year will be discussed, the Victoria "Y" will open what is expected to be one of the biggest summer seasons, of its history at the end of this month and the beginning of May.

First on the bill will be a swimming club picnic on Friday, when members of that group will hold a preliminary "get-together" at Beaver Lake and line up events for the coming season.

Rehearsals for the circus which annually draws the indoor season to a close, will continue on Easter Monday, as the various departments of the membership prepare for the grand show on April 27, 28 and 29.

On April 13 Jordan River badminton players will journey to the Y.M.C.A. for a return tournament with the local association representatives.

SWIMMING GALAS

The Flying "Y" swimmers will go out again after Vancouver Island Swimming League honors in a gala scheduled to be held at the Crystal Garden on April 24. In the event the association plans one or two novelty stunts which should be a decided attraction to the function.

As their next activity the association aquatic performers will go in quest of Y.M.C.A. champions (ps. most probably in their own pl 1, on May 19. For this event several 1 reptual challenge trophies are for competition.

Track and field artists of the association will hold their big day on June 3, probably at the High School, when the Y.M.C.A. titles in standard events will be decided.

TO HOLD BIG MEET

The "Y" is also hoping to stage the inter-high track meet again this year.

The fixture has been one of the highlights of former local athletic seasons, bringing together outstanding performers from all the senior schools of the lower island.

Provision is also being made for a house football league, with the exception of the Quads Club, Swimming Club, Intermediate Employed and Intermediate School classes.

Intensified programme in gym work is also being given favorable consideration. Included in this department of the summer's work would be tumbling, heavy gymnastics, club swinging and other specialized features.

Nick Caught 'Em At First and Won Game

Quakers had little to say. "It was a tough series to lose," was about the only comment emanating from the Saskatoon camp.

SET TWO RECORDS

When Hawks clinched the title Monday night they set up two records in Allan Cup playdowns. It is the first time in history that the cup has ever gone to the Maritime Provinces and it is the first time the silver mug has ever been won via the shutout route.

Charlie Irvine, hard working left winger on the champions, was the high scorer of the interprovincial playdowns for Hawks with four goals and an assist.

Jimmie Foster, twenty-seven-year-old net custodian, who blanked the Quaker marksmen two straight games, also set up a nice record. Foster has twenty-one shutout games to his credit throughout the 1932-33 season, which is something for a goalie in any company to be proud of. Seven of his goose-eggs were made in playdown games.

Both squads left this afternoon en route home.

Dean Rolison—Guard. Height six feet, weight 170. Starred on Raymond High School and Calgary Normal teams for three years. One of Alberta's closest checkers and starts many of the Jacks' onslaughts into their opponents' territory.

"Benny" Nielson—Guard. Height six feet four and weighs over 190 pounds. A regular "tower" on defence, and a net guardian of the first rank, partly due to his height and partly due to his uttering deception. A Raymond High School product.

Albert Hague—Guard. Last two years a member of the Idlers and only recently transferred to senior company this year. Hague's specialty is long shots, but under the net is a deadly shot. A clever checker and a fast dribbler makes him a much feared player.

Height six feet, weight 160.

Incidentally, of the eight players composing the Jacks, five have received coaching under the tutelage of S. E. Lowe, coach of the Raymond High School.

By JOE GLASS

Ad indicated in previous articles, a main objective in obtaining a good grip is to obtain the necessary flexibility for efficient wrist cock. At the top of the swing the wrists bend down much in the manner of a gun-hammer when being cocked. This wrist action is essential to a rhythmic swing and to power production when hitting through the ball.

Now a tight grip can very well stiffen the wrists, yet the club cannot be too loosely held. What then, must the duffer do? In this contingency he and he could barely get the ball up to the plate. But he didn't want to quit and lose his guarantee, so he started the fifth game.

"The first man up tripped, the next doubled and the next two hit over the fence for home runs, and then foxy old Nick used his head. He walked the local hitters the rest of the day and caught them off first base with his trick move. He claimed twelve at least."

"I suppose he pitched the next two games also," concluded Rowland, "and walked twenty-seven men and caught them all off first, but I won't worry for it."

Provision is also being made for a house football league, with the exception of the Quads Club, Swimming Club, Intermediate Employed and Intermediate School classes.

Intensified programme in gym work is also being given favorable consideration. Included in this department of the summer's work would be tumbling, heavy gymnastics, club swinging and other specialized features.

Now a tight grip can very well stiffen the wrists, yet the club cannot be too loosely held. What then, must the duffer do? In this contingency he and he could barely get the ball up to the plate. But he didn't want to quit and lose his guarantee, so he started the fifth game.

"The first man up tripped, the next doubled and the next two hit over the fence for home runs, and then foxy old Nick used his head. He walked the local hitters the rest of the day and caught them off first base with his trick move. He claimed twelve at least."

"I suppose he pitched the next two games also," concluded Rowland, "and walked twenty-seven men and caught them all off first, but I won't worry for it."

Provision is also being made for a house football league, with the exception of the Quads Club, Swimming Club, Intermediate Employed and Intermediate School classes.

Intensified programme in gym work is also being given favorable consideration. Included in this department of the summer's work would be tumbling, heavy gymnastics, club swinging and other specialized features.

Nick Caught 'Em At First and Won Game

Quakers had little to say. "It was a tough series to lose," was about the only comment emanating from the Saskatoon camp.

SET TWO RECORDS

When Hawks clinched the title Monday night they set up two records in Allan Cup playdowns. It is the first time in history that the cup has ever gone to the Maritime Provinces and it is the first time the silver mug has ever been won via the shutout route.

Charlie Irvine, hard working left winger on the champions, was the high scorer of the interprovincial playdowns for Hawks with four goals and an assist.

Jimmie Foster, twenty-seven-year-old net custodian, who blanked the Quaker marksmen two straight games, also set up a nice record. Foster has twenty-one shutout games to his credit throughout the 1932-33 season, which is something for a goalie in any company to be proud of. Seven of his goose-eggs were made in playdown games.

Both squads left this afternoon en route home.

position on the team. Weight 160, height six feet one.

Dean Rolison—Guard. Height six feet, weight 170. Starred on Raymond High School and Calgary Normal teams for three years. One of Alberta's closest checkers and starts many of the Jacks' onslaughts into their opponents' territory.

"Benny" Nielson—Guard. Height six feet four and weighs over 190 pounds. A regular "tower" on defence, and a net guardian of the first rank, partly due to his height and partly due to his uttering deception. A Raymond High School product.

Albert Hague—Guard. Last two years a member of the Idlers and only recently transferred to senior company this year. Hague's specialty is long shots, but under the net is a deadly shot. A clever checker and a fast dribbler makes him a much feared player.

Height six feet, weight 160.

Incidentally, of the eight players composing the Jacks, five have received coaching under the tutelage of S. E. Lowe, coach of the Raymond High School.

ROADCRAFT Tires have Cushions of pure gum rubber moulded in between the plies of cord fabric, making a "bearing" that reduces friction and wear at these points as effectively as ball bearings do in machinery.

ROADCRAFT Tire Treads are carefully designed to give the maximum grip of the road surface, thus giving extra traction and braking power.

"After the fourth day," continued Clarence, "Nick's arm, which wasn't as young as it used to be, felt the strain

Reason for the Divorce Problem

Dorothy Dix

Discusses Antagonism of Sexes

The Main Reason for Divorce Is That Men Are Men and Women Are Women, the High School Boy Suggested—What Seems Highly Desirable to One Is Anathema to the Other

A HIGH-SCHOOL student was recently called upon to write an essay on the subject of divorce. He summed up his observations and conclusions on domestic infidelity by saying:

"Divorce comes of people of the opposite sex marrying, for how can either know what the other wants?"

Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings cometh wisdom! For, after all is said, isn't the real reason, nine times out of ten, that marriage is failure and husbands and wives do not understand each other and can't get along together, the bare fact that they are of opposite sex and do not know what the other wants?

No couple ever marries with the sinister purpose of wrecking each other's lives. No lovers ever envision divorce as the end of their romantic dreams. No man ever marries a woman with the deliberate purpose in his mind of breaking her heart. No woman ever goes out with a man with the intention of making her home a hell on earth for her husband.

Nor are many men and women consciously bad husbands and wives. Mostly they think they have given a pretty good performance in the domestic role. They have done their duty as they saw it and they honestly don't see what their Johnnie and Marjorie have to find fault with.

That is why in every divorce case each of the high contending parties considers himself or herself the aggrieved one. "Good heavens," cries the man in exasperation, "what does a woman expect of her husband? Didn't I work my fingers to the bone for her? Didn't I give her a good house and a good car, and didn't she have charge accounts at the best shops? Haven't I been as domestic as the house cat? Have I ever stepped out of evenings? Huh, a woman doesn't know a good husband when she gets one."

"I can't understand why I left me," moans the woman. "For I have never been looked at another man since the day we were married. And I've been the best housekeeper in town and he has never had a button off or a sock with a hole in it, and I have watched over his health and seen that he always had what was good for him to eat and wore his rubbers when it rained. But men never appreciate a good wife."

And both the husband and wife speak no more than the truth as they see it. From their points of view they have been good husbands and wives. Only neither knew what the other really desired in a mate. Probably there would be no more unhappy marriages if men could marry men and women could marry women, but this is not only legally impossible, but biologically repulsive to both men and women. A regular he-man is never attracted by a mannish woman. The more feminine and fluffy-ruffies they are, the better he likes them. And there is nothing that a woman so abhors as a sissy man. The fair sex has always fallen for brutes and caveman stuff.

But the attraction that draws the two sexes together before marriage undoubtedly sets off the explosion that blows them asunder after marriage. For neither knows just what the other wants and neither understands the other yet because they belong to different sexes. The man thinks he is being a good husband when he provides for his wife's material wants and it never crosses his mind that it is just as important for him to feed her soul as it is for him to feed her body, and that she can suffer as much from heart hunger as she could from lack of food.

Nor can a man see any sense in a woman always wanting to be told that she is loved and desiring to be petted and complimented and fussed over and made much of. To him it seems as superfluous to be forever assuring his wife that his affection has not changed and that he still regards her as the most admirable woman in the world as it would be for him to go about proclaiming that he was an honest man or a successful grocer or that he paid his debts. What's the use of words when he spends his life toiling to make her comfortable and never finds fault with her or bates what she does? That ought to show any woman how she stands with him.

Furthermore, husbands feel actually aggrieved when their wives go into hysterics and make scenes and drag them into the divorce courts about a little indisposition or a silly flirtation that really means nothing except that they were bored and wanted a little fling or they wanted to see if they were still devils among the women or they just had a schoolboy's sudden irresistible longing to mong the women or they just had a schoolboy's sudden irresistible longing to mong the women or they just had a schoolboy's sudden irresistible longing to mong the women and their conviction that their wives were the great and only and they feel that their wives should have known this.

They reflect that any man would have known this and laughed it off. And so they would. But no woman can get the real masculine slant on these matters. And the trouble is that wives are women.

Same way about wives. A woman thinks she is a good wife if she is a good cook and housekeeper and penny-pincher and if she never belongs to clubs or plays bridge or has a thought or an interest beyond her husband and her children. Furthermore, she is firmly convinced that if she loves her husband she has a right to nag him to death and boss him as completely as if he was a three-year-old feeble-minded child. The most self-righteous wives in the world are those who never let their husbands eat anything they like without telling them how bad it is for their stomachs or permit them to drive the car without their back-seat chauffeurage.

But a man knows that a husband wants something besides virtue and domesticity in his wife; that he would rather be married to a woman who was a good companion than a good cook and that what he wants in a wife is a good sport who is jolly and good-natured and easy to get along with, and who will tell him how great and wonderful he is and generally rub his fur the right way.

Any man would understand that. But women don't, and the trouble is that husbands are men.

And it doesn't seem that there is anything we can do about it.

Wonders of the Heavens

GRAVITY POWER. Often I have spoken of "scientists" and of the things which they tell us, and no doubt you feel that they must be wonderful persons.

High jumpers in three places

I think it is right to give them honor. They work long and hard to study the facts about this problem or that problem. Usually they do not have much reward in gold, but they are great reward when they find that their study helps the human race.

True scientists are careful about what they state. If they are not certain about something, they say it is a "theory," or that they "believe" it is true, or that the facts "seem to prove" that it is so. Then they work on and on, and in efforts to make sure. About many things, scientists are as certain as we are when we say, "The sun will be seen in the sky to-morrow if the day is clear." For example, they can tell what eclipse of the sun and moon will take place for years to come. Long in advance they give the time of day or night when such eclipses will be seen from certain parts of the earth.

One interesting thing scientists have done has been to study the "gravity" of different planets. They have learned that some planets do not have as much power to pull things to them as other planets have.

Jupiter, largest of the planets, appears to have the strongest gravity. If an expert high-jumper from the earth could go to that planet and use "as much strength and skill in jumping as he uses on earth, he would find it hard to get up in the air.

Let our same athlete go to the moon, and what would he find? Supposing, as before, that he could live after the trip, he would amaze himself by his jumping abilities. Gravity on the moon is only "one-sixth" as great as on earth. The man could jump over a two-story house, if he found such a
